Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-43 and 74-80, drawn to a refill for a mop, classified in class 15, subclass 228.
 - II. Claims 44-51, drawn to a cleaning sheet, classified in class 15, subclass 228.
 - III. Claims 52-72, drawn to a cleaning mitt, classified in class 15, subclass 227.
 - IV. Claim 73, drawn to a cleaning method, classified in class 134, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination claims do not require all of the limitations recited by lines 4-10 of claim 44. The subcombination has separate utility such as being used as other than a component of a refill with stacked sheets.
3. Inventions I and III are essentially unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP §

Art Unit: 1744

808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are related to (1) a refill for a mop having a head and (2) a cleaning mitt which would have a mode of operation much different from the mop(s) with the head/handle.

4. Inventions I and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the method claim (73) is specific to a cleaning mitt and is not related to the in a significant sense to the subject matter of the "refill" claims.

5. Inventions II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination claims (the mitt) do not require all of the limitations of the subcombination (lines 4-10 of claim 44) . The subcombination has separate utility such as the sheet can be used in a device other than a mitt.

6. Inventions II and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions relate cleaning sheet specifically recited as being used in conjunction with a mop head having gripping means on its upper surface and a method specifically drawn to the use of a cleaning mitt.

7. Inventions IV and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus (eg, claim 52) can be used to practice another and materially different process such as one which did not require the specific manipulative steps of lines 16-20 of claim 73.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Election of Species

10. This application contains claims directed to numerous disclosed patentably distinct species (some of the species being specifically related to specific ones of the above-noted groups and upon election of one of the noted groups, applicant must also elect one of the following species which is related to or associated with the elected group/invention) of the claimed invention: (1) figs 1-3; (2) fig 4; (3) figs 5-6; (4) figs 7-8;

Art Unit: 1744

(5) figs 9-10; (6) figs 11-15; (7) fig 16; (8) fig 17; (9) figs 18A-18B & 19A-19D; (10) fig 18C; (11) fig 18D; (12) fig 20; (13) fig 21; (14) figs 22A-22C.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic to all of the embodiments.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
